THE democrats of Ohio will slip up on Standard oil to-day.

"Don'r pitch your tent among the dead," was Garfield's advice to young voters.

For lutense egotism St. John takes the belt. His bump of self-conceit runs out into a horn. THE St. John democratic side show will be blown off the face of the earth by republican ballots. Ir is said that the liquor sellers are putting up for the St. John annex to the

THE indications last night were that the weather would be clear and cool in Ohlo to-day. Fair weather is always republican.

Onto will serve notice on the country to-day that no hangman need apply for admission to the white house in this year of our Lord.

THE Germans of Ohio do not take kindly to the mouthings of a few demo-cratic beer baron; who assume to own their fellow countrymen.

THE church people of the Buckeye state appear to take some interest in polities this year. They are throwing open their houses of worship for republican meetings in many parts of the state.

Tun blasphemous St. John is as free with the name of the Deity as he would be with that of Bill Jones or John Smith.

As the colored citizen remarked, "Too ter ing eddents that enter into the society." As the colored citizen remarked, "Too much freedery breeds despise." St. John should pender over this simple truth.

for the purpose of airing his vealy views on politics, carefully revised proofslips of to the press of the nation by the grapevine telegraph. We miss the cheerful chirp of the youthful statesman, and we iss the grape-vine telegram.

GEORGE W. RAY, republican representative in congress from the twenty-first New York district, has been defeated for renomination. Mr. Ray voted and spoke for the Fitz-John Porter bill, and his constituents did not approve of the stand he took in that matter. Republicans who voted for Porter do not appear to have humor of "Uncle Davy" and "Owen Garrosucceeded very well in obtaining indersements at home. They have been elected to stay at home with great unanimity.

What Will the Harvest Be?

Speculation on the result of the voting in Ohio to-day is in a sense idle, but there is nevertheless comfort for republicans in a contemplation of possibilities. the week with matinees on Wednesday and the state show one of two things, viz, that the polling was done carelessly by one or both parties or that there is an unusually large doubtful vote, which is claimed by democrats claim to have a closer and better organization than the republicans. This may or may not be true. Republican managers will not admit that the statement is correct, and they assert that their poll is by far the most accurate of the two. It is very doubtful whether either is worth as much as the respective committees would have themselves bo-

The polling of a state is a difficult, delicate, and painfully slow work. The best results ever accomplished in the cauvass of a state is marked to the credit of the Indiana republicans in 1880. In a total vote of 470,000, they came within two or three hundred of the mark, but this remarkable exhibit was the result of nearly a year's patient and painstaking labor on the part of well-drilled local committees working to a common end. It is not probable that the same care has been taken in Ohio this year, or anything approximating it-a fact which would to some degree explain the difference of 25,000 or 30,000 in the estimates of the rival committees. The republican committee at Columbus counts on a majority of from 12,000 to 18,000, and the demoeratic committee has fixed the majority for their party at from 8,000 to 12,000, with an elastic proviso.

It is a fact worthy of note that a years of democratic success in Ohlo the democratic party has never yet succeeded in touching the republican high-water mark. In Octoer, 1880, the republicans cast 352,021 votes and the democrats 343,016. A month votes and the democrate 543,010. A month later the republicans increased their vote to 375,048 and the democrate fell back to 380,521. These figures show that 13,000 republicans voted in November who stayed away from the polls in October.

In 1883 Gov. Hoadly received 359,793

In 1883 Gov. Hoadly received 359,793 votes, the highest number ever given any demogratiq candidate in Ohio, and although he fell nearly 16,000 votes short of the known republican strength three years before he was elected by a majority ment, and that another element will desert the party in power because of bilious discontent over business depression, but here lesses will be offset by accessions from the ranks of Irish-Americans and workingmen who have heretofore voted with the democracy, but who will vote with the republicans this year on the protection issue. Unless appearances are deceptive, the two great parties have relatively about the same strength in Ohio this year that they had in 1880, when the republicans were in a majority of 19,000 in October and 34,227 in November. The anticipated increase in the total vote should be to the advantage of the republicans for reasons previously stated. The republicans may win to-day by meager majority, and they may be beaten but it would not be a matter of very great surprise if the majority should reach 25,000.

AMUSEMENTS.

"A PARLOR MATCH,"
At Ford's last night the first presentation of Hoyt's new farce-comedy, "The Parlor Match," was witnessed by a large audience, "The Parlor which was entimated and unanimous in its approval of this latest novelty. The play is one of those indescribable productions that take an audience by storm and admits of no riticism. Those who have witnessed "The Banch of Keys" will be able to form some sligh. Hoa of Mr. Hoyt's methods, but in "The Parlor Match" he has transcended every pre-vious effort, and keeps his audience in roars of insighter from the beginning to the end of as funny a play as has ever been seen on the Washington boards. The plot of the axtrava-gama is made up of the adventures of a book agent and a tramp with kieptomaniae procliviles, who, with a descendant of the Pirate

Kidd, are ever in the foreground.

Charles E. Evans as the peddler of chest terature gives full scope to his wonderful in-producing powers, and is ably seconded by William Hoey, who, as Gid hoss, the tramp, steals everything from a pet goat to a red-hot stove. Miss Jennie Yeamans as Iunocent Kidd was as bright and sparkling as champagne. Her freshness and vivacity as the "anget child" was a revelation and this, with her artistic dancing, made her a favorite at once. Miss Mattle Ferguson as Lucille Kidd captured the audience by her artistic rendition of the gems of the latest comic operas, and made a decided hit. A feature of the performance are these operatio gems, which are well rendered by a chorus of excellent voices, and these, together with the absurdly comical situations a limitless supply of new slang, and startling novelties, maintain the fun till the fall of the curtain. "Parlor Match" throughout the week, with the usual Wednesday and Saturday matines "HEARTS OF OAK." At the National theater last evening James A. Herne's "Hearts of Oak" was presented to a very slim audience. "Hearts of Oak" is essentially a healthy play, and its plot is drama of to day. There is suffering, sorrow, and death, but it is the result of misfortune THE fight between Col. John A. Joyce and Mrs. Ella Wheeler Wilcox lags. After the returns come in from Ohio and West Virginia they should lay joint claim to the authorship of the "Bouutiful Snow," and get up some more excitement. What has become of Perry Belmont?

Terry Dennison, and his noble self-sacrifice.

This character, which vividly recalls the works of "The Man of Alvin" with the state of the same of the sam popular demand for realistic melodrams, as himself to be dragged being the country for the purpose of airing his yealy views winkle," and "Enoch Arden," Mr. on politics, carefully revised proofslips of Herne invested with a simple pathos his atterances being sent out in advance that went straight to the hearts of his audience, and was never exaggerated or overdrawn. The dramatic interest of the play lies after the opening of the third act, and cul-minates in the death scene in the cabin of Owen Garroway, which is a most touching climax. The Chrystal of Miss Katherine Cor coran was a clever and effective piece of act-ing. In the home-scene of the third act the baby captured everbody and demonstrated

The board win ave regular meetings, at least once a month, and at such other times as the president may lirect for the transaction of business con-occided with the college. The proceedings of the board will be recorded in a journal. The ourse of instruction will be open to all officers betweethe grade of naval cadet. Commodore is a lace has been assigned to duty as presi-leut of the college.

The Lecture To-Night.

No series of entertainments undertaken in Washington has had a higher aim than that beginning to-night in Lincoln hall with Mr. beginning to-night in Lincoln hall with Mr. William Jackson Armstrong's lecture on the "Nhillists"—the sories which he presents under the mane of the "October Lectures." Mr. Armstrong has paid the Washington public the compliment of believing that, if rightly solicited, it will support a literary recreation even in the autumn of the highest character, and from the success lits enterprise has already shown in the sale of season tickets to his countence will be fully justified. The lecture on the "Nhillists" to be given this evening discretion the rest of the series in being ameration nather than a lecture, but it has already been adjudged by its delivery in the best rostrams of the country a brilliant masterpiece of platform eloquence.

ABOUT PEOPLE.

JUNES PRENCH, assistant secretary of the reasury, has gone to Boston for a few days. Mn. Charles L. Whilpley, who has been juite iil the past two weeks, is slowly improving, and expects to be out in a few days. Ting fand which is being collected in Eng-iand for the purpose of assisting Mr. Henry teering in his proposed lecturing tour on land nationalization is increasing steadily. Society young men of Denver go to the opera and theater unaccompanied by ladies, and allege hard times as the reason. The ladies are complaining through the local papers. LHUT. B. T. Walling, U. S. N., who has been attached to the survey of the Pacific coast of Contral America for several years, is
